HOLDS ANNUAL DAILY VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL

The annual Daily Vacation Bible School of the First Baptist Church, was held this year at the church from May 22 through May 31. A total of eighty-one pupils were enrolled during this period making the school one of the most successful yet held.

Reverend Robert L. Lee, Pastor of the First Baptist Church, was principal of the school and his teachers were: Mrs. David Middleton, Beginners; Mrs. J. Lash, Juniors; Mrs. J. G. Woods, Ass't. Juniors; Mrs. R. L. Lee, Intermediates; Mrs. Stanley A. File, Primary; Mr. W. W. Webre, Superintendent.

The school was concluded with graduation exercises at the church Wednesday, June 7, at 7:30 p.m. The student body and teachers presented to parents and friends a program depicting the average school day.

The school day usually began at 9:00 o'clock with the children and teachers marching into the church. Before taking their seats the student body sang the Doxology followed with the motto of the school. At this time the primary led the congregation in the Lord's Prayer. Then came the salute to the American Flag, the Christian flag and Bible. During the school week the primaries and beginners would then go to their individual class rooms.

The program continued with the intermediates and Juniors singing the song and giving the scripture verse used in this part of the days program. The entire student body sang a few songs usually sung during the sing-along hour. This part of the day was followed with refreshments and the handicraft hour.

After the student body had completed the program of the average day, the individual classes gave a brief review of what they had accomplished during Bible School. Mrs. Middleton quizzed the beginners on various phases of their work and received spontaneous response from her pupils. The primary followed with the entire class singing a few of the new songs they learned in their class work. Individual groups of the Primary class then offered several of the scripture verses that they had memorized during this part of the program. Paul Miller was awarded a prize for being the Primary who brought the most new members to Bible School. After the Primaries, each member of the Junior class recited a scripture verse from memory. The Intermediates followed with Mrs. Lee asking her class questions which they were to answer with various scripture verses from memory.

Following the program the students were awarded certificates for completion of their work.

Parents and friends were then invited to adjourn to the different class rooms where the handicraft was on display.

The program offered a beautiful realization of the willingness and ability of young minds to gain knowledge of our Lord and Savior.

CITY OFFICIALS AND CIVIC LEADERS PLAN COMMUNITY ORGANIZATION

A group of local citizens met Monday, June 5, with the Commission Council and asked official recognition and support of their proposed plans and organization.

The purpose of this group is to work individually and collectively for a more attractive community. They plan, through community effort and cooperation to arouse an interest in each property owner and tenant to make Bay St. Louis more conscious of its general appearance.

"Every citizen, regardless of his race or financial standing can, and I believe will, help in making our aim and purpose actually become a reality," said the spokesman for the group.

A name for the organization will be picked by public suggestion and it was decided that prizes be awarded to those who suggest the most appropriate designation for the proposed new organization.

The Commission Council unanimously agreed to officially recognize the group and whatever organization may develop as a result of their efforts and pledged full help and cooperation by enforcing any city ordinance dealing with cleaning and clearing of vacant lots throughout the community.

"Although we do want and need official backing and support by the Commission Council," concluded the spokesman, "we wish to make it very plainly understood that this organization will be strictly non-political and non-partisan."

A general meeting of all interested citizens will be held at Bay High School auditorium on Friday evening, June 16, at 8 o'clock.

Second Meeting set for Monday, June 12, 8:00 P.M. at Bay High Auditorium

Bay St. Louis' first travel promotion meeting was held Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock at Bay High School auditorium. Mr. L. D. Hubbard, manager of the Tivoli Hotel and representative of the Mississippi Agricultural & Industrial Board was the principal speaker.

Mr. Hubbard spoke of the importance of the tourist business to a community such as Bay St. Louis. He stated that the tourist business is an industry and that we should by all means do what we can to develop what natural resources are at our disposal.

"It is very important to the community as a whole that every tourist who stops to do business in the community be treated in a most hospitable manner," said Mr. Hubbard. "You must treat him with courtesy, give him accurate information about your community, and make him feel that he would like to settle down and locate here."

The value of educating the service trades and mercantile establishments in the proper handling of tourist customers was stressed a great deal. "Your community should by all means conduct a 'Travel Host School' because everyone will benefit if you can draw more tourist business to your area," continued Mr. Hubbard. "Your community is concerned with getting as many out-of-state tourists into your own area as it possibly can. Your objectives also must be to keep these tourists in your area for the longest possible time—and then to make them want to come back again."

Mayor Warren Carver who is chairman of the Travel Promotion Committee, stated that a second meeting would be called for Monday evening, June 12, at 8 p.m. at Bay High School auditorium.

Mrs. Elizabeth Schwartz Gives BOOK REVIEW

The review of the musical comedy, "South Pacific," given by Mrs. Elizabeth Schwartz of New Orleans was enjoyed by a large audience Tuesday afternoon at Bay High auditorium in spite of the rain. As Mrs. Schwartz enacted the different parts, her daughter, behind scenes, supplied the musical hits by record with perfect timing.

Even those who had seen the performance in New York enjoyed the review and thought Mrs. Schwartz especially good. The review was given for the building fund of the Methodist Church and was in charge of Mrs. T. T. Robin.

Punch was served in the lobby after the review.

KILN RESIDENT CRUSHED TO DEATH IN FARM ACCIDENT

Mr. Thurman Rufus Conard, age 51 years, in attempting to pull a stump on his tung oil farm two and one-half miles north of Kiln on the Kiln-Poplarville road, lost his life when the tractor turned over and crushed him to death.

Mr. Conard and his wife, the former Amy May Knieper, were working in the field Monday afternoon about 2:45 when, contrary to his usual custom of using a chain, Mr. Conard tried to lift the stump out with the hydraulic lift on the tractor, and in so doing the front of the machine reared up and turned completely over crushing him against the stump.

Sheriff B. D. Johnson, Mr. Kenneth Whitfield of Fahey Funeral Home, and three deputies arrived at the scene of the accident about 3:05 p.m. and had a wrecker from Bay St. Louis go out to pull the Big M John Deere tractor off Mr. Conard.

The Conards came to Kiln from New Orleans about a year and a half ago and had improved their place considerably in that time. Mr. Conard has two sons by a previous marriage, Lloyd Conard, of New Orleans and Gerard Conard of Ohio. His father, James M. Conard, resides in Cosby, Tennessee, on Route No. 1.

The body was taken to New Orleans to the Philip Schoen Funeral Home on Elysian Field for funeral services at 10:00 on Wednesday. Religious services were held at the Franklin Ave. Baptist Church.

Red Cross Summer Swim Program Starts

The American Red Cross, Hancock County Summer Swimming program for beginners will start on Monday, June 12 at 10 a.m. on Breath's Beach, when there will be registration for the beginners class.

The instruction is free and the instructors are trained volunteers. In addition to the classes for children, there will be another for the adults who want to learn to swim. Bring the children and join the class yourself. Everyone should know how to swim.

We believe this summer program affords an excellent opportunity to the young people of our community to "waterproof" themselves by learning new swimming skills and safety precautions, and at the same time enjoy a healthy recreational activity.

For further information call Mrs. L. A. Rogers, 117 or Mrs. M. J. Langquard, 489-J, instructors; or Mrs. J. B. Goldman, water safety chairman at 245. If you don't phone we will see you at Breath's Beach on Monday at 10 a.m.

A list of timely suggestions which can prevent aquatic accidents:

1. Select a safe place for swimming, preferably one supervised by a life guard.
2. Don't try to demonstrate abilities you do not possess.
3. Don't go beyond your depth unless you are a seasoned swimmer.
4. Don't stay in the water too long.
5. Before diving be sure the water is deep enough and free of obstructions.
6. Don't enter the water when tired or overheated.
7. Never go swimming alone.
8. Don't go swimming until two hours after eating.
9. Know how to save a person from drowning and how to apply artificial respiration by completing a Red Cross life saving course.

the SPORTSMAN'S TENT

by STANLEY FILE

Are you tired of working for a living? Then why don't you stop toiling for your daily bread and simply go out and pick up a fortune. It's as simple as all that at least it looks easy on paper.

Now here is our plan and you don't have to risk a single copper.

First, you go into the swamps and catch a half dozen bullfrogs, then all you do is mate them and set back to rake in the cash. One female frog will lay ten or twenty thousand eggs at a time so with your "breeding stock" let's say you harvest a couple million eggs the first year and to keep the figures round to avoid mental fatigue, let's say half of them die or are killed by their many, many natural enemies, so we have a million bullfrogs to live through the tad-pole stage and left to sell for fifty cents apiece. Now, taking a little time and an adding machine we find that we have a half million dollars, $500,000 at the end of one year.

Simple, eh? Of course, if you don't wish to sell all of your stock, but would rather keep a couple hundred for breeding next year, you won't make quite a half million dollars, but just think how far you can go from here on in.

Buy six frogs gave us $500.00 in one year; now we have two hundred for breeding this year, and six times two hundred gives us 1200 times the start we had a year ago; and 1200 times two million is . . .

Now we can really retire and all our grandchildren can retire—but wait! now that we're through working and about ready to help Truman with his unbalanced budget let us stop and see if there can possibly be any drawbacks in our dream of a scheme.

Our first kink, occurring the very first day, is easily overcome (would that the rest would be as easy). We must be able to distinguish between a male and female—it may delay our retirement a bit if we brought back six males and sat around waiting for them to lay us a fortune. But, alas, telling the difference is very simple, it is done in two ways: first, the diameter of the eardrum of the male is twice as great as the distance between the nostrils, while in the female it is only slightly greater; second, the thumb of the male bullfrog is thick, while that of the female is slender.

Now, we must consider the enemies of the frogs. They have many natural enemies from their egg to adult stages, since they are consumed in all of their forms by dozens of types of birds, snakes, and even by frogs themselves. So we will have to find some way to protect our froggies—and this hasn't been done to any degree of success as yet.

Oh yes, another thing, these frogs are apparently even too ugly to stand one another—at least, there's anti-social. They do not produce so well in captivity or on breeding farms; and to top it off, the great number of parasites and other diseased conditions to which frogs are subjected increase beyond control in confined areas.

Gosh! I never realized that raising so much trouble connected with raising frogs, and after reconsidering, I think we better try to get our old jobs back and eat the six frogs we got for "breeding" purposes on our first days journey toward being a millionaire.

"Gentlemen's Agreement"
Voiced After Discussion

A so called "Gentlemen's Agreement" was made several years ago between the counties of Lamar, Pearl River and Hancock providing for the election of a State Senator from the district comprising the three counties, to be chosen, first from Lamar County, next from Pearl River and the next from Hancock County, the election of State Senator to rotate in such order throughout the existence of the Gentlemen's Agreement.

By the Agreement the tenure of office is limited to one term, preventing a State Senator elected from this district from having proper influence and prestige in the State Legislature that a competent Senator would have who was deemed eligible and who could succeed himself in office. Chairman appointments of important committees go to members with legislative experience, men who have been in the State Legislature long enough to merit respect in their judgement of various legislative matters and since the people of the three counties want and need the most capable and competent Senator to represent them as a whole, a resolution was adopted by the Commission Council of the City of Bay St. Louis on June 5, 1950, to annul the "Gentlemen's Agreement."

The election of a State Senator from Lamar County at the time the so called "Gentlemen's Agreement" was reached, with the present incumbent having been elected from Hancock County, thereby giving all three counties proportionate representation during the entire period of existence of said agreement. The resolution provides an opportunity for a competent and capable candidate to run for the office of State Senator from the three counties comprising this district, regardless of his place of residence, and affording his constituents an opportunity to continue him in office, provided his performance merits such continuance in office.

Unemployment looms as a spectre before a prosperous nation; some way must be found to provide work for willing hands.

Trifles & Treasures

-by-
PEGGY FOOTE

On our arrival in Houston we were met by our host and whisked to an air-conditioned apartment. That very evening we were the guests of E. R. Turner, (president of no less than three oil companies) for dinner at the Shamrock Hotel. Mr. Turner selected a table on the terrace overlooking the swimming pool and I selfishly selected a chair where I could have full view of the aqua enthusiasts. At dark, the pool was lighted from beneath the water, creating an unusually beautiful effect. (For one split second I felt I was back at the Nationale in Havana.)

We enjoyed an excellently prepared meal then made a tour of the ground floor of the hotel. It was built by the now famous Glenn McCarthy, who has made and lost several fortunes and his portrait hangs in plain view of all those entering the beautifully appointed lobby. We learned that there were the Shamrock Room, the Pine Room and the Grecian Room and we investigated all. In the Shamrock Room the tables are placed on three levels. Enormous velvet shamrocks "grow" realistically from the walls. A huge net of vari-colored balloons hung gracefully from the ceiling and the maitre d'hotel informed me that they are released at 10:30 every night. The "ladies room" decor intrigued me. It was done in green elephants (there are sixty-five shades of green used in the hotel decoration) on the walls with three and a half foot high Chinese figurine lamps on wicker tables. The powder room was pink and on the walls hung pictures of "girls on the flying trapeze" with "real" costumes on and framed. They looked quite natural.

The Grecian Room was interesting with murals done in grey and black of Grecian subjects and folklore. Two Greek boys were playing "jacks." In my ignorance, I wondered why and our host pointed out that the game originated in early Greece.

I understand there are some rates at the Shamrock as low as $6.00 a day, but they are very few. Most range from $60.00 a day upward.

I missed one thing—I expected to find beautifully gowned and precisely groomed women there but they weren't. Houston women, tho, are not nearly so clothes-conscious as we.

On our way home we passed the new Baylor University Medical School which was donated by Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Cullen. (Incidentally, as you surely know, Baylor is in Waco, not Houston.) Mr. Cullen is one of Houston's many oil barons. He also gave $1,000,000 each to the Methodist, Episcopal, Memorial and St. Joseph's Hospitals. Mrs. Cullen was said to have remarked that she and Mr. Cullen may be selfish, but they wanted to give beneficently while still alive so that they could enjoy the results.

Next night we were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Winston Moody at the San Jacinto Inn and at Texas Memorial Park. Do let me tell you what they served us—to begin with we had shrimp cocktail with pitchers of sauce on the side. Then two large bowls of boiled shrimp were put before us (there were six of us in all). So we could conjure up more shrimp cocktail if we chose. Then two enormous platters of boiled crabs and claws, then stuffed crabs then fried fish, french fried potatoes and fried chicken. (The chicken is a tradition—if you can't eat it all the waiter will bring you a paper bag on request and you can take the remainder home. Honestly! Then lime sherbert and demi-tasse. I was literally

And now for our recipe. I do hope you girls are trying all these good things to eat and drink—remember, they are all tested and proved and I think, very delicious. This one is for Chess Pie (I don't seem to be able to find out where or why it's name originated.)

Four or five egg yolks beaten until fluffy and lemon colored. Add slowly three-fourths cups sugar, beating all the while. Add slowly to this 1 stick melted butter which is at room temperature. Beat and add a little at a time. Then add not quite one-half cup milk—also at room temperature. (put pie shell in refrigerator to cool while making filling). Bake in moderate oven then towards last turn flame up a little. Sure, it's rich! but it is superb! (Don't forget your "room temperature warnings" that is very important or you'll have some sort of curdled mess on your hands.)

Would you like the one for Poppy Seed Dressing now? I promised it last week but failed to keep my promise. Here it is:

10 tbs. sugar; 1 tea. dried mustard; 1 tea. salt; half onion grated; 1 cup salad oil; half cup vinegar; 1 tbs. poppy seed (or celery seed).

Beat above five ingredients until thoroughly blended. Add vinegar a little at a time and continue beating. Add poppy seed or celery seed (poppy is best.) It will separate when put in refrigerator but mixes easily by shaking briskly. This is very good and is different.

Thank you Faery Boyd, for my very first fan letter, and all the nice things you said about our column. I am sorry, I cannot reveal my identity but I am grateful for your interest.

Every time I think of Dorothy Shafer (Mrs. Thomas Shafer, Jr.) I see her in that lovely black velvet gown receiving at the Pilgrimage Tea in Mrs. Brignac's relaxation room. Dorothy should have her portrait painted, just as she looked that day—and would the grandchildren be proud some day!

See you next week—
Au revoir

from
The PMA County Committee

1951 ACP SHAPING UP

More directly fitting conservation practices to the needs of the individual farm and continued striving for more conservation for each dollar of allocated funds are major objectives of the 1951 Agricultural Conservation Program now being developed, says C. L. Neill, Chairman of the Mississippi PMA Committee.

As in the past, the recommendations of individual farmers, local county and community committeemen together with the advice of agronomists and soil technicians are the basis for next year's program. The conservation needs of individual farms and the selection and grouping of practices to meet these needs are being particularly stressed, the chairman advises.

Conservation practices for land taken out of allment crops are receiving major attention and the seeding of "diverted acres" to grass and legumes will be emphasized in the program the chairman advises.

Particular consideration also is being given to the gradual withdrawal of as-istance for recurring annual practices as they become established in farm operations.

PARTNERS IN CONSERVATION
"A nation cannot continue to bleed its agriculture without developing a national anemia. When agriculture is weak and sick—both land and farmers—production drops off and people go hungry. It has happened in other countries. It can happen here. So by assisting farmers in carrying out conservation practices the Nation is feeding back into its own bloodstreams the red corpuscles of life and health and happiness."

The statement was made by Alvin V. McCormack, Director, PMA Agricultural Conservation Programs Branch, at the recent annual Virginia PMA Conference for farmer-committeemen.

He pointed out that the very abundance, which is so essential to the welfare of the Nation, often wrecks the farmer's price and the farmer finds he is "producing" himself out of house and home.

He likened the conservation program to national defense: "just as it is in the national interest to protect ourselves against enemies which seek to destroy us with bombs and guns and ships, so it is in the national interest to protect ourselves from the enemies which just as surely destroy us by destroying agriculture with erosion and deterioration and bankruptcy."

HOSPITALITY AT WORK

Mississippi communities soon will be looking around for additional ideas for the promotion of tourist business during "Hospitality Month" in June. Here's one that paid off last year for Iuka in Tishomingo county. Iuka's Community Travel Promotion Committee last May strung this large welcome banner across U. S. Highway 72 at the entrance to Mineral Springs Park, set up a nearby information booth, where literature and sanitary drinking cups were provided, and hostesses available to answer questions. In the picture above, while Bill Pyle, right, secretary-manager of the Association of Commuters, is welcoming a New York tourist, Secretary Pyle said tourist cars stopped willingly, many of their occupants remaining to go through the park and fish.

Referring to today's challenge of what to do with this land taken out of cotton crops, he said, "Conservation of our soil and water resources is as vital as ever to the national welfare—despite surpluses of some farm crops—and we don't want to forget that as population increases it becomes more and more important. The 150 million population now may be 180 in 20 or 30 years."

HIGH PENALTY ON EXCESS COTTON

The penalty rate for cotton produced in excess of farm marketing quotas in 1950 will be 50 percent of the parity price as of June 15, 1950, Mr. Randolph Seal, chairman of the Hancock County PMA committee, said today. The parity price on April 15 was 30.26 cents per pound.

"We would like to bring to the attention of all cotton growers that the penalty may be around 15 cents a pound," says the chairman. "This compares with a penalty of 7 to 8 cents a pound under previous quota programs. The 15-cent penalty is based on the assumption that the parity price on June 15 will be not far different from the 30.26 cents per pound which it was on April 15, 1950."

Cotton subject to penalty is designated as the "farm marketing excess" of cotton. It will be determined by multiplying the farm normal cotton yield by the acreage planted to cotton in excess of the allotment.

In cases where the farmer establishes that the actual cotton yield, per acre is less than the normal yield, the farm marketing excess will be reduced to the amount by which the total production exceeds the normal yield times the farm cotton acreage allotment.

Until the penalty on the farm marketing excess is paid, all cotton produced on a farm and marketed is subject to penalty, and a lien on the entire crop of cotton produced on the farm will be in effect in favor of the United States, the chairman explains. The penalty must be paid before a marketing card can be issued to a farm. In addition, the farmer who knowingly overplants the farm cotton allotment will be ineligible for cotton price support and also for any agricultural conservation payment for the farm.

Highway Patrol To Hold Training At Gulfport Base

The Mississippi Highway Patrol has government permission to use the US Naval Storehouse at Gulfport for training purposes in June and July.

The Navy Department advised Sens. James Eastland and John Stennis and Rep. William Colmer that it was notifying State Safety Commissioner Col. T. B. Birdsong of its approval.

Col. Birdsong has permission to use two barracks and a galley at the installation.

Birdsong said the patrol will conduct a training program for 200 patrol candidates from June 4 to July 29. He said the patrol used the facility for its 1948 school.

In Jackson, Col. Birdsong said work will begin this week on preparing the barracks for use. The school will open June 4 and run through July 30.

Birdsong said 160 men would be put through the patrol course during the eight weeks. The 100 patrolmen already in uniform will take brief refresher courses during the school.

The patrol commissioner said there will be between 25 and 30 on the school faculty. In addition to local instructors, several FBI men will be on hand, as will specialists from Colorado, Texas, Virginia, Northwestern University and the National Safety Council.

Hi-Way Drive-In Theatre

Showing 'Spring In the Park' Sunday, June 11th

The Wilcox-Neagle Wilding team have done it again! Their latest film, 'Spring in Park Lane,' an Eagle Lion Films presentation plays Sunday, June 11th at the Hi-Way Drive-In Theatre. It is easily the finest to come this way in a long time. Produced by the shrewd maestro, Herbert Wilcox, and starring lovely Anna Neagle and Michael Wilding with Tom Walls in a featured role, it is a frothy bubbling comedy with music and dancing exactly what movie fans have been clamoring for.

The story is a light-hearted affair about an impoverished nobleman, played by Michael Wilding, who is forced to masquerade as a footman in the Park Lane home of an eccentric art collector, and falls in love with his employer's secretary, Miss Neagle's role.

The comedy angle is helped along by some extremely witty dialogue written by Nicholas Phipps who also proves to be a first class comedian in a feature role.

'Spring in Park Lane' was directed by Herbert Wilcox and adapted from a story by the internationally famous author, Alice Duer Miller.

Enjoy Outing at Diehlman Center in Waveland

The graduating class of Jackson, Missouri, High School, numbering 89, are stopping at Diehlman Center in Waveland. Each year the graduating class, which saves money from the beginning of their Freshman year, is taken on a nine-day tour. This year three bus loads in school buses left Jackson, Missouri, for Pensacola, Florida, and on the way back stopped here to take trips to Baton Rouge and New Orleans and from here will go to Baton Rouge. The group arrived on Monday and will leave Thursday.

In 1946 the same group came to Diehlman Center through arrangements made by Rev. Burne, a former pastor of an Evangelical Church in New Orleans, with Rev. Lawrence Madschedler, of the Jackson Ave. E. R. Church, who is head of the Diehlman Center Committee. The committee is composed of representatives from seven Evangelical churches in New Orleans.

NOT TOO BUSY TO PLANT FLOWERS

It is quite edifying to see a busy place of business with a flower garden within its confines. No one can pass the Texaco Station at Second and Ulman Avenue without noticing the more delicate shades of pink, blue, lavender and white. In the spring there are orange colored and yellow calceolarias, lavender and pink and white larkspurs, phlox and other spring flowers and always roses; and as the season advances so the flowers change until the end of summer there remain only the hardy zinnias of every color imaginable. The strange part of it all is that the little plot of flowers is entirely surrounded by concrete pavement. Whether or not the owner of the Service Station knows it, he or she furnishes a great deal of pleasure to the passerby, and deserves credit for taking time out of a busy day to beautify his property and thereby helping to beautify the more delicate shades of pink, blue, lavender and white. In the spring there are orange colored and yellow calceolarias, lavender and pink and white larkspurs, phlox and other spring flowers and always roses; and as the season advances so the flowers change until the end of summer there remain only the

Stanislaus Dance Orchestra Presented
Jazz Concert At St. Joseph Auditorium

The boys in the dance orchestra at St. Stanislaus planned and presented a jazz concert last Saturday night at the St. Joseph Academy auditorium which would have been a credit to professional performers.

Their program announced: Why We Did It. A program such as this requires hours of planning and tedious preparation all apparently to no end. This however is not the case.

Jazz is the native art of America. It has cradled here and grew to be a thing of immense interest to the average American citizen. We are playing a Jazz Concert to prove that Jazz can be added to the curriculum of the present day high school because it offers tremendous advantages to the development of the musical ear and the mastery of technique as well as the ability to sight read unusual rhythms, which are frequently occasioned in this type of music.

The direction, script and arrangements were done by Norman Carnovale, and manuscripts copied by Norman and Norbert Carnovale. Business management was under Norbert Carnovale and James Williams. Equipment was in charge of Alberto Zambrano. Stage engineers were John LaBruzzo, Pat Hurley and Stanislaus Rosenblath. Advisors were Brother Romuald and Brother Elbert.

Members of the orchestra are: Norman Carnovale, Paul Hurley, Louis Lucas, Henry Caplepon, Larry Schaff and Clarence Hava. Saxophone, Norbert Carnovale, Sal D'Angelo and Stan Philips, trumpets, Jack Dresher and Gilbert Schmidt, trombones, Bill Coup et drums, Emile Carriere piano and Alberto Zambrano, congo drum. Vocalists were Stan Rosenblath, Pat McCurrin and Scotty Assenheimer who was also the announcer.

A DECADE OF HITS. The announcer, over the microphone, said: "The program which follows marks a decade of hits—a survey of the ten top tunes of the nation in the sale of sheet music, phonograph records, and played by the automatic coin machine."

—an authentic report of America's taste in popular music. The first Hit Parade went over the air on April 20, 1935. We picked up the story in 1940 when USA was singing and dancing to a Spanish American song of Amor. St. Stanislaus presents 1940's all time old timer, Puccinia, played by the orchestra for the first number.

The Pearl Harbor year was marked by the beginning of odd lyrics in popular tunes: No 9 on the Hit Parade of a decade ago was all about the male species of the well known lamb chop. Here it is the top tune of '41—"Mairzy Doats."

Fanfare: Lucky Strike Green has gone to war! On the land, on the sea, and in the air, Lucky Strike is fighting to vanquish the foe. The special cellophane wrapping used to keep the Lucky Strike cigarette so round, so firm, so fully packed is a necessary factor in the manufacture of war material. Lucky Strike sympathizes with the war effort in designing a newly-colored package. Remember the red circle—Lucky Strike means fine tobacco. Another animal tune seemed to dominate the polls in 1942 Stanton Rosenblath vocalizes as Chirkey Chir-chir-la-chir-la.

Next announcement: "1943's tune tickles the palate and salivates the talking machine. Eat it if you can but I'd rather listen. The band instrumentalizes on 43's favorite: 'Shoo Fly Pie.'"

Apparently the music lovers lost appetite in 1944 when they left the mares and chrys and pies for something more on the romantic side. It was this year that Frank Sinatra made his first appearance on the program. For many consecutive weeks ears were held aperc to his talent and the mighty fine hit of the year Stanton Rosenblath steps into his shoes in giving our rendition of "Symphony." Stanton staggered onto the stage a la Sinatra and clung to the microphone to sing.

"Romanticism was held at a high pitch during World War II and among many other fine love tunes, 'Mamselle' taken from Rarrel F. Zanuck's production of 'The Razor's Edge' stuck most consistently to the hit parade. Trombonist Jack Dresher takes the spotlight in this one giving his interpretation of 'Mamselle.' Jack, a senior this year, will be missed with his singing trombone in the orchestra.

"Another tune from a top notch movie came out in 1946 'To Each His Own' jumped to the top and stayed there for 13 consecutive weeks as the number one tune of the nation. The band brings it back to you tonight as another of the unforgettable. 'Special' by the orchestra.

"1947 marked the return to prosperity. The deep impressions left by war were becoming less prominent, and the GI's were returning home to find their ex-sweethearts dancing and romancing to the tune of 'Dance Ballerina Dance' by the orchestra.

"Getting closer and closer to the top 1948 brought us 'A Tree In The Meadow.' By Stanton Rosenblath.

From the 20th Century movie hit, 'Road House' comes last year's gold winner, 'Again.' The vocal on this one is done by yours truly! Scotty Assenheimer sang this in his full baritone voice.

Fanfare 1950—Here we are! The top of America today in the sale of sheet music, phonograph records and played by the automatic coin machine. America's No. 1 in popular tunes—"It Isn't Fair."

The audience was most responsive to all the numbers and could have listened to more, which is unusual in most amateur performances, and everyone was surprised at the finished perfection of both the performance and the manner of the performers.

HIGH SPEED CAMERA. A new camera in a jet airplane flying at 500 miles per hour, recently took a picture of a man playing cards on the ground so clear "you could read the ace of spades," according to Col. Geo. W. Goddard, director of photography and research development at the Air Force Center, Wright Field, Ohio. The new camera, he said, is capable of taking clear pictures from a low-flying plane traveling 3,000 miles an hour—if such a speed were attainable. The camera uses moving film, doing away with the conventional type of shutter.

CLUB NEWS

We have great news for all town folks, teen agers, mother, father, grandpa, grandma and everyone else who is interested in the welfare of the Youth Center. The A & G Theatre is giving a benefit movie for the Youth Center. All proceeds go directly to be used to carry on the club which to date is in need of all aid. The movie is to be on June 30th, a matinee, with two shows beginning at 2 o'clock and ending at 6. Between the shows there is to be a raffle. Each ticket which is to be sold, will have printed on it a number which will be drawn at the intermission and the holder will receive a lovely gift from either a merchant in town or a mother who has baked a cake, made hand work, or anything that anyone would like to contribute to help make the movie a success.

The name of the attraction is "Kill The Umpire," there are also two comedies. Tickets will go on sale the week of June 12. Admission will be 15c, 25c and 35c.

We are asking that everyone please stop to think a moment what the Youth Center means to your community and most important what it means to your youth. The responsibility to maintain the club doesn't fall on just a few, it is up to you, and you, and you. Will you take your responsibility and help the teen agers to make a success of their futures?

The teenagers will contact you to buy a ticket—buy not one but five or six.

The teenagers wish to thank Mr. Baker of the A & G Theatre for making the opportunity possible and also, to thank Mr. Horatio Favre who has assisted in every way he could and also helped to make this opportunity possible.

All teenagers are asked to be present at the regular meeting on Saturday night to get further particulars and sign up for ticket sales. Prizes will be awarded to the three teenagers selling the most tickets.

"WITCHHUNTINGS"

George S.
